Queenstown
Writers Festival
Bringing readers & writers together

The Queenstown Writers Festival exists to connect people over a shared love of words, stories and ideas.

What we do

We connect readers and writers with new and diverse stories, and each other.

We help local storytellers to share their work and access development opportunities.

We showcase contemporary storytelling from Aotearoa New Zealand and beyond.

We celebrate curiosity, the sparking of ideas and conversation.

Queenstown
Writers Festival

Since the first meeting in 2018, our small group of volunteers has grown the festival into a thriving celebration of storytelling, bringing top New Zealand writers to Queenstown, hosting writing workshops for adults and school students and running popular writing competitions.
